

MACALESTER

Visiting Assistant Professor - Environmental Studies Environmental Policy/History

Macalester College's Environmental Studies Department invites applications for a full-time, one-year appointment in environmental studies at the assistant professor rank beginning fall 2025. This position is renewable for a second year, based upon successful completion of the first year. A Ph.D. in Environmental Studies, History, Political Science or related field is preferred; teaching experience desirable.

Macalester's Environmental Studies Department emphasizes a fully interdisciplinary approach to environmental issues, drawing on contributions from the natural sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities. An attractive applicant will show strong teaching interests in and commitment to such interdisciplinary approaches.

The successful candidate will teach five courses including Environmental Politics and Policy and Environmental History (two of the Department's required introductory courses for majors), and three elective courses in Environmental Studies, History and/or Political Science related to the candidate's field of expertise. Geographical focus and field of specialization are open.

Inquiries can be directed to Professor Chris Wells, Search Committee Chair, wells@macalester.edu.

Applications received by March 17, 2025, will be granted full review.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester College is located in Saint Paul on the ancestral homeland of the Dakota people who were forcibly exiled because of aggressive and persistent settler colonialism. Macalester's diverse student body comprises over 2000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 95 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester College strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups. Please note that offers of employment are contingent upon a successful criminal background check at the time of offer.
